

To our Friends at AGO - Board of Directors,

In Luke 21:1-4, we find the familiar touching account of the widow who goes to the temple and makes an offering of two small copper coins referred to as "mites." When Jesus highlights her generosity, He reminds those listening that others gave out of their abundance, but she gave from her poverty. Obviously, she had very little of the world's wealth, yet that did not stop her from giving, even though it meant enormous sacrifice.

A few days ago we had a modern rendition of this story arrive in the mail. Michael from Graceville, Florida wrote:

I listen to "Wisdom for the Heart" nearly every morning. I really get a lot from Stephen's teaching style and his content is very biblical. I thank God for the teaching and pray He continues blessing all of you there. I do not have much in the way of resources so I am sending these stamps for you to use. May God continue to support your ministry for a long time to come.

The stamps Michael sent to Wisdom

Michael's gift of five stamps has special meaning to all of us here at Wisdom. They serve as a reminder of the sacrifice made by many of you who provide financial support to maintain Wisdom programming and send materials around the world.

As we enter the fall season, we need your financial help more than ever. So, with grateful anticipation, thank you for doing what the Lord lays on your heart.

We give God the glory,

T. Wayne Knowles

Dear Friends,

I always enjoy signing thank-you letters because of personalizing them to the very people who make Wisdom's worldwide influence possible. We hear of such impact regularly in the mail we receive every day. Jan from Kentucky writes:

I usually arrive at work around 8:30 a.m. just as your program is starting. But I refuse to get out of my car until I at least hear your opening remarks and that powerful fanfare that opens your program. I get your main point for the day (and sometimes a pretty good joke). Once inside, I bring up the program on my computer and hear the rest of your sermon. I appreciate your wisdom for my heart and your insights. Please never stop sharing your thoughts and love of Jesus because I, and so many others, cannot start our day without them. God bless you and your ministry.

Most ministries usually experience the "summer doldrums" because of revenue shortfall. Your gifts to Wisdom will arrive in a timely manner when you automate your giving as a member of Gideon's 300. It's simple, safe, and easy. If you're not already a participant in Gideon's 300, why not call our office to learn more about it.

We appreciate the personal investment you make, ensuring that thousands can tune in to "Wisdom for the Heart."

To God be the glory,

Wayne
